Dear parents and carers,

Thank you for your continued support as we finish our second week of term. It is wonderful to see the school come to life through all the different lessons and activities. Next week a large number of Lunchtime enrichment activities will be starting and the students will be informed of what will be taking when and where.

As a reminder no parents or cars are allowed on site to pick up children until after 3.25 due to the number of buses and lack of space that we have. We have an agreement to use the homebase carpark as a collection point to help with this.

Please speak to your children about their behaviour on the buses. We have a large number of students who use the buses and the vast majority of these manage their behaviour extremely well. It is a shame that the occasional minority spoil it for the majority.

I have attached a letter from our caterers, Chartwells, regarding the prices of the meals going forward.

I also attach our first Online Safety Newsletter of the year. Please do read the previous editions on our website under 'safeguarding'.

This week we have launched our 'Newman Way'. This is how we will be framing the way we behave and interact. It is, of course, linked to our school mission statement of 'Together towards our Lord through learning, love and faith.' We have used the 9 gifts of the Holy Spirit, as listed in Galatians to act as guides on how to speak, behave and respond to situations in and out of school. This week the assemblies have outlines the 'Learning' aspect of our mission statement and how we can learn, joy, patience and self-control. There will be much more information coming out about these over the coming weeks and months. One way for us to recognize the students displaying the 'Newman Way' is through awarding character points in Class Charts. If you see your son or daughter receiving these, please do ask them about them. Developing good character is so important in this day and age and this is part of our role as a school. Especially helping form the minds and hearts, this is one of the ways to do this.

Wishing you every blessing at the beginning of this new academic year,
