

English

Welcome!

A hearty welcome to our effervescent English department, here at Cardinal Newman Catholic School.

Our Purpose and Ethos:

Through the study of English our students will be encouraged and supported to be articulate communicators, avid readers and ambitious writers.

We facilitate and foster a culture of reading across the school but consider the English classrooms and the library to be at the core. We provide ample opportunity for our students to explore a diverse range and form of texts from a variety of cultures.

There is something in English for each and every student! Whether that be a dramatic performance of the Witches spell-casting around the cauldron in Macbeth; a quiet and reflective space to be able to express themselves in creative tasks; or through discussing and debating the motives of inspirational writers.

A student of English at Cardinal Newman will be challenged to question the world they live in through their investigation of literature whilst also learning the skills to express themselves in all walks of life. The study of English equips our students, yes, to be able to read knowledgeably and to write accurately but most importantly to be curious, to connect and to communicate confidently.

Key Stage Three:

We view this as preparation for the rigours of GCSE. We work towards building a toolkit of knowledge and skills that the students can draw on looking at both contemporary and classic novels, plays and poetry alongside non-fiction reading and writing. We have regular library lessons to enable students to foster a varied and sophisticated vocabulary pre GCSE.

Students who come to the school who were working below national expectations at KS2 may follow a special catch up course which has in the past helped many of our students to be working at national expectations by the end of Year 7.

GCSE English:

We follow the AQA English Language and AQA English Literature specifications. All students will be prepared for both examinations. We are enormously proud of our KS4 students and have an excellent record of high achievement. Last year 76% of our students achieved levels 9-4 in English Language and 79% in English Literature.
